GIANTS GRAB FIRST GAME

Stengel's Homer in the Ninth Breaks Tie and Wins.

YANKEES OUTHIT OPPONENTS

Hoyt Retires in Third When Giants Bunch Bingles and Score Four Runs—Fielding Plays by Groh and Kelly Cut Off Yankee Runners. From the Plate—Opening Game of World's Series a Brilliant Clash.

New York, Oct. 11.—The most lustrous gems of the play by play of the splendid opening game of the world's series which the Giants won from the Yankees yesterday were:

Old "Casey" Stengel's home run to far left center in the first half of the ninth inning, with two out and the count two strikes and three balls. This won the game.

A marvelous catch of Joe Dugan's fly into short center by Second Baseman Frank Frisch of the Giants, and his throw to Catcher Snyder in time to get Babe Ruth, trying to score from third after the catch.

A marvelous stop back of first of Babe Ruth's whistling drive by George Kelly, when it seemed a sure hit, his lightning throw to the plate to catch Joe Dugan, tearing in from third, where he had gone on a triple. This play will always sparkle brilliantly in the annals of baseball. It came in the seventh inning.

The play by Frisch in the sixth inning, after Wally Schang of the Yankees had doubled, in which the Giants' famous second sacker snared Scott's drive far to his left.

First run was scored by the Yankees in the first when Dugan walked and was forced by Ruth. The latter scored on Meusel's double. In the second the Yankees scored two more on singles by Ward, Schang and Witt. The Yankees' final tally was added in the seventh on Bush's single and Dugan's triple.

Four runs were scored by the Giants in the third inning. Kelly singled. Gowdy walked. Maguire ran for Gowdy. Bentley, batting for Watson, singled. Gearin ran for Bentley. Kelly scored when Bancroft forced Gearin at second. Scott to Ward. Bancroft stole second. Groh tripled, scoring Maguire and Bancroft. Groh scored when Frisch singled. In the ninth Stengel's home run broke the tie and won the game.

Fighting Forest Fires.

Superior, Wis., Oct. 11.—National guardsmen are assisting hundreds of citizens in Douglas county to fight forest fires which threaten to sweep several villages. The village of Blueberry, Lake Nebagamon, Hawthorne and several other small communities are in danger, according to the reports. Many homes have been destroyed and several highways have been closed to traffic. Mildred Kolvin, 3, wandered into the woods near Mowhawk, Mich., and was burned to death.

RADICAL CHANGE SOUGHT

Bill Restricting Immigration Prepared by Davis and Johnson.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Secretary of Labor Davis and Representative Albert Johnson, chairman of the house immigration committee, have completed an immigration bill, which Johnson will introduce early in the coming session of congress. All summer Davis and Johnson have been working on the bill, which proposes to make a radical change in the admission of European immigrants, greatly increasing the proportion of the Nordic peoples and practically cutting off the Mediterranean and many of the central European nations.

It is proposed to do all this by simply going back to the census of 1890 and using that year as the base on which to calculate the quotas instead of 1910 as at present, and to reduce the proportions to 2 per cent instead of 3 per cent, as under the present Dillingham law.

Even if such a bill could be passed, it would not go into effect until July 1, 1924, when the present immigration laws will expire. But the question of the constitutionality of the law has already arisen.

New Wage Scale in Effect.

Toledo, Oct. 11.—A new wage and working agreement is in effect between employees of Indiana, Columbus and Eastern Traction company and Receiver J. H. McClure of the road. The agreement calls for a 10-hour working day, affecting many employees at Lima and Springfield, until Aug. 15, 1924. The wages agreed upon for the interurban lines call for 41 cents an hour for first three months of employment, next nine months 45 cents, and after second year 52 cents. Freight brakemen are to get 40 cents.

PROBER MAKES REPORT

Supervisor of the State Hospital For Epileptics Is Exonerated.

Columbus, Oct. 11.—Complete exoneration of E. J. Wilson, supervisor at the state hospital for epileptics at Gallipolis, is made in the report of H. J. Burton, special investigator named by Governor Donahey to probe charges filed against the supervisor. The complaints were filed in the form of affidavits by R. W. Mack, Gallipolis attorney, citing many alleged offenses and demanding the supervisor's dismissal. Investigator Burton interviewed all sorts and conditions of citizens at Gallipolis, according to his report to Welfare Director John E. Harper, and the unanimous verdict testifies to the good character and efficiency of Mr. Wilson.

First Game's Receipts.

New York, Oct. 11.—Attendance and receipts for the first world series game broke all previous records. Total attendance was 55,397. Total receipts $181,912. Of the total sum the players will get $92,775.12. Each club will get $30,925.05. The baseball commission will get $27,286.80.

Trade Pact With Germany.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Negotiations involving the drafting of a new commercial treaty with Germany will be begun here soon, it was learned at the state department. Similar treaties of "commerce and amity" with Austria, Finland, Latvia and Estonia are also under consideration, it was said.

SEES NEW WAR IN EUROPE

Lloyd George Criticises Nations Which Continue to Arm.

WORLD PEACE THREATENED

Former British Premier In a Speech to a Crowd at Toronto Declares There Will Be Another Clash of Arms in Europe Unless Something Intervenes—Also Openly Attacks the League of Nations.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 11.—Nations in Europe which continue to arm for war were sharply criticised by former Premier Lloyd George in his speech to an audience of 5,000 here.

Naming France, Italy, Belgium and Poland as among the nations which signed the covenant of the league of nations in the belief that it meant world peace, Lloyd George declared: "I see these nations of Europe filling their arsenals with the weapons that ravaged Europe for five years. They signed the covenant to keep peace and are now arming for war."

This arraignment of the nations which, according to Lloyd George, threaten world peace, was accompanied by a stirring appeal to all the dominions of the British empire to stand together to resist another war.

It was evident also that he cherishes the hope of being able in some manner to get the United States to join Great Britain in a world peace movement of some kind and that the object of his American tour is to spread the seed of an Anglo-American accord that may bring the two nations together to check Europe's warlike moves.

Lloyd George's ideas upon this subject probably will be developed more clearly when his tour is finished of the Canadian provinces and he crosses over into the United States.

Passionately declaring that the world wants no more war, Lloyd George said Europe still is depending upon force. He said he wished Europe were tired of war, adding: "The last war was terrible, it was ghastly, it was devastating. But it is nothing compared with what will happen with the world if there should be another war, and there will be another war in Europe unless something intervenes."

The speech openly attacked the league of nations, in the creation of which Lloyd George was an important factor at the Versailles conference. He praised the spirit of Canada in the war, pointing out that by reason of Canada's signature to the treaty it was given a "charter of nationhood" for the first time in history.

NATIONAL SCHOOL FOR CRIME ALLEGED

Former Students Found Among Bandits, It Is Said.

Los Angeles, Oct. 11.—"Business" activities of a national school of crime, with its headquarters in Washington, are being investigated by the federal grand jury here.

Former students of the university, it is asserted, are to be found among the postoffice robbers and bank bandits of the country. The school's faculty, it is further charged, is made up of former employees of the United States government and men from other not-to-be-suspected callings, including even brokers and bankers.

Robert Wilson, former clergyman, mail robber and now serving a sentence in San Quentin state penitentiary, following conviction on a murder charge, is said to have been a student of the crime "university," where he learned to make nitroglycerin. Data presented to the grand jury here told of results of an investigation by the postal authorities into the asserted activities of the ring and whose depredations, it is estimated, have cost owners of securities largely at least $16,000,000. Department store robberies and bank holdups all over the country contributed their share to this total, it is asserted.

The data presented to the grand jury represented, it is reported, 10 months of checking details of a confession made here by Wilson about a year ago, prior to being taken to prison to begin service of his sentence. As a result the return of at least a score of indictments is regarded as a certainty, with the indicted persons in many places throughout the United States. A rumor says three government officials will be implicated and that certain secret service operatives will be found guilty of at least carelessness in allowing the crime university's graduates to operate nationally.

DOINGS IN OHIO

Next Matron of Girls' School.

Columbus, Oct. 11.—Mrs. Margaret Elton of New Vienna, O., may be the next chief matron of the Girls' Industrial school, near Delaware. Mrs. Elton stood first in the eligible list certified by the state civil service commission, as a result of the competitive examination held several weeks ago. Mrs. Mattie E. Pangborn, now acting chief matron, stood second on the list, and Dr. Victoria A. Nash of Toledo was third. Mrs. Elton is the wife of Colonel J. P. Elton, for several years superintendent of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' home at Xenia.

To Enlarge Game Preserve.

Columbus, Oct. 11.—Increase of the acreage of the Roosevelt game preserve in Scioto county from 15,000 to 25,000 acres is the major aim of the program of the fish and game division, according to D. O. Thompson, chief. Following a visit by Agricultural Director Truax to the preserve, plans were laid for making the preserve a place to which persons from every part of the state would go for a sight-seeing trip. New bridges and improvements are to be made, and the population of deer and wild turkeys will be increased as fast as possible, Thompson says.

Another Arrest in Bushnell Case.

Dayton, O., Oct. 11.—A new angle to the blackmail case involving John L. Bushnell, former president of the First National bank at Springfield, developed in federal circles here with the arrest of Albert Harris of Hollywood, Cal. It is alleged that Harris blackmailed Bushnell in an effort to procure sufficient funds to meet the bond under which Rose Putnam and Don Osborn are being held in the jail at Troy pending their trial before Judge Smith Hickenlooper of the Cincinnati federal court.

Dry Sleuth's Home Blown Up.

Stuebenville, O., Oct. 11.—The home of Charles Pearce, 36, prohibition enforcement officer at Smithfield, O., west of here, was blown up by dynamite. Pearce, his wife and baby escaped serious injury. The blast partially wrecked the city hall opposite the Pearce home, the Spragg restaurant, the home of Mrs. Mary Merryman and broke windows in three score residences.

Cashier Hecht Sentenced.

Cincinnati, Oct. 11.—Frederick W. Hecht, former cashier of the American National bank of Dayton, who pleaded guilty to 30 counts in an indictment charging embezzlement of $306,537.69, was sentenced to serve 10 years in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga. The American National bank, of which Hecht was cashier for six years, has been absorbed by the Merchants' National bank.

Tire Plant to Be Reopened.

Akron, O., Oct. 11.—The Akron plant of the Kelly-Springfield Tire company will be reopened next Monday, it was announced here. This factory was closed recently when the company concentrated its tire manufacturing in Cumberland, Md.

Suspect Arrested.

Piqua, O., Oct. 11.—Frank Muto, 28, of this city, suspect in the murder of Mrs. Gertrude Grubbs here Sept. 23, is under arrest in Pocahontas, Va., according to dispatches received here.

SPURNS BERLIN GOVERNMENT

French Premier Negotiating With Ruhr Industrialists.

URNS DOWN GERMAN ENVOY

Poincare's Refusal to Talk Regarded in Paris as a Direct Check to the Stresemann Cabinet Which May Cause Its Downfall—Return to Normal Labor Conditions in the Ruhr May Take a Year.

Paris, Oct. 11.—Premier Poincare refused to negotiate the Ruhr question with the German government. He told the German charge d'affaires that instead France is negotiating with the industrialists.

The German envoy told the French premier that Chancellor Stresemann wished to discuss the problem of resuming payment of reparations in kind. "No discussion is necessary," was the reply of Premier Poincare. "We will talk when you start deliveries and when the Ruhr laborers return to work."

The premier's reply is regarded here as a direct check to the Stresemann cabinet, which may cause its downfall. The effect of the French refusal to talk to the Berlin government is to place the industrialists above the government, say diplomats.

Meanwhile it is pointed out here: First, that the return to normal labor conditions in the Ruhr may take a year owing to the demoralization of the workers, who for nine months have been living without work; second, that France must loan the industrialists money with which to pay their workers, otherwise mining will be impossible, and third, that under any circumstances conditions in the Ruhr are such that it may be months before the Ruhr can return to the status which obtained in January, when the valley was occupied, while the real problem—payment of cash reparations—is made almost hopeless by the bankruptcy of the reich.

The British government, according to a well informed source of information at Berlin, is said to have made a highly confidential suggestion to the German government that Germany conclude with Britain a separate agreement for railway traffic in Ruhr region and regarding exports through the British occupied zone, which has Cologne for its center. This suggestion, it is stated, was made in London through German Ambassador Stahmer, who immediately telegraphed the proposal to the German foreign office. The arrangement is to be made in the form of a provisional agreement, which it is pointed out shall be concluded without reference to the attitude of France and Belgium. Should France and Belgium persist in their refusal to negotiate with Germany, the German government is declared ready to adopt the British suggestion.

FOR BEER AND WINE

Labor Federation Favors Amendment to Volstead Act.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 11.—By an overwhelming vote the American Federation of Labor went on record as favoring an amendment to the Volstead act, permitting the manufacturing and sale of beer and light wines.

The dozen delegates who voted against the proposal, however, were militant in the extreme and fought with much spirit, insisting that prohibition had proved to be a blessing to the working man and his family. Other delegates wanted the federation to take a definite stand for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment, claiming that the enforcement of the prohibition act had brought about serious complications with friendly foreign powers, and had resulted in the consumption of vast quantities of bootleg liquor, sickness and death, and could never be enforced.

Dictatorship Bill Pressed.

Berlin, Oct. 11.—The Stresemann cabinet is given dictatorial powers for six months in the bill which passed its second reading in the reichstag. The government can no longer evade the issue raised by Hugo Stinnes, who, it now appears, sought a virtual industrial dictatorship.

Killed in Gun Battle.

Youngstown, O., Oct. 11.—Arthur Harris, 27, was killed in a gun battle between East Youngstown police and negroes. Harris was brought down with a bullet in the leg, but continued to fire at the policemen, whose return shots finally killed him.

DRUGGISTS' SUGGESTION

Some Governmental Agency Only Should Handle Liquor.

Cleveland, Oct. 11.—Officials of the Wholesale Druggists' association, in convention here, declare that less than 20 per cent of the members of the druggists' association handle liquor even for medicinal purposes. Yet suspicions are aroused and react to the injury of legitimate business by prejudicing public opinion.

That some government agency only should handle liquor and eliminate druggists entirely was a strong feeling in the convention. At present alcohol for industrial purposes is issued only by government permit and a rigid proportion between the volume of alcohol and the total volume of business is maintained. Certain stores, it is admitted, have made heavy price cuts to increase their volume of business as a blind for increasing their traffic in alcohol. But such cases are rare and the liquor responsibility thrust upon the druggists is generally regarded as a thorn in the side of a legitimate business.

Girls Tripped and Stripped.

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 11.—A powerfully built man has tripped four Iowa university girls within the last week and then stripped their bodies of clothing. The police are bending every effort to identify or capture the assailant. The latest victim is Miss Ruth McWilliams of Odebout, Ia. Returning to Tudor cottage, an annex of Currier hall, with a girl friend, she was tripped, and her clothes were torn almost completely off by the giant before he was frightened away by men students attracted by the girl's screams.

Champion Potato Yield.

Piketon, O., Oct. 11.—Samuel Cooper of this place is claiming the champion potato yield of Ohio. In the spring Cooper plowed an acre and a half of ground that had not been broken for 12 years, it being a part of an old orchard. He planted five bushels of Chicago Market and five bushels of Seneca Beauty potatoes. The Seneca Beauties yielded 100 bushels or 20 bushels for each bushel planted. The Chicago Market yielded 125 bushels or 25 bushels for each bushel planted.

GRIEVANCES ALLEGED

Strike of Miners in Wilkesbarre District May Spread.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 11.—With 19,000 miners employed by the Hudson Coal company on strike walkout of all miners of the Glen Alden Coal company's collieries looms. While the men at the Dodge collieries of the Glen Alden were voting to return to work after a strike lasting several days 1,500 men at the Bliss colliery, near Nanticoke, walked out, alleging bad mining conditions and illegal shifts for fan runners.

The general grievance committee of the Glen Alden miners said every colliery had a list of grievances and unless the company adjusted them at once, every man will be called out.

Auto Goes Through Fence.

Cincinnati, Oct. 11.—Leroy Weber, 29, was killed and two other persons, one a woman, were injured when the auto in which they were riding plowed through a fence near Harrison, O.

Railroad Dividends —and Taxes

LAST year the Pennsylvania Railroad System paid out more in taxes than in dividends. Out of every dollar received 4.38 cents was paid in taxes, while only 4.34 cents was paid in dividends.

In the year 1913 the total dividends paid to railroad stockholders were about two and a half times the total railroad taxes. In the year 1922 the taxes paid were 11 per cent greater than the aggregate dividends.

The cash dividends paid in 1913 totaled $322,300,406 and the taxes $127,725,809. Dividends in 1922 totaled $271,576,000 and taxes $301,003,227. In the ten-year period, 1913 to 1922, therefore, taxes increased about 135 per cent while dividends decreased about 16 per cent.

The increase in taxes is due in part to an increase of approximately five billion dollars in the property investment of the railroads between 1913 and 1922. But, while the total investment and value of railroad property devoted to public service during this period has increased about 33 per cent, and taxes upon the property 135 per cent, the total compensation to railway stockholders has decreased 16 per cent.

100 PER CENT PERFECT WHITE

Black has ordinarily been called "no color," and taken to denote the absence of color. Likewise, white, being constituted of all colors, may also be considered as no color. A white body is assumed to reflect all the light that strikes it. There is no absorption and hence there is no color. A black body absorbs all the light that impinges upon it and reflects none, therefore there is absence of all color.

Theoretically this is true, but there is no white that will reflect 100 per cent of the light, and no black that will absorb 100 per cent of the light. We often hear of a whitest white, until a whiter one comes along and displaces it from its position of eminence. The same fact holds good for black. But, inasmuch as some white must be taken as a standard of comparison a choice must be made of the whitest white. Pure barium sulphate is, accordingly, taken as the 100 per cent perfect white, the white which reflects all the light that strikes it.

From a practical standpoint it is equally incorrect to state that black denotes absence of all color. For one black is blacker than the next and the blackest black, which is assumed to have no color at all, may be found to possess some light trace of color when compared with another new black. Furthermore, as the eye is not absolutely perfect and as its sensitivity is not infinite absence of light, as defined by the sensation produced in it, is relative only. Even the deepest black would exhibit traces of color, would reflect a little light, if our eyes were sensitive enough to detect it.—Scientific American.

Oyster Gatherers.

It takes 6,000 laborers to supply the American public with its customary first dinner course, says Luther C. Fry, writing in World's Work. This force includes entire families, as well as single men. The father works on the boats which gather the oysters by dredging or tonging. His wife and children can and prepare them for market.

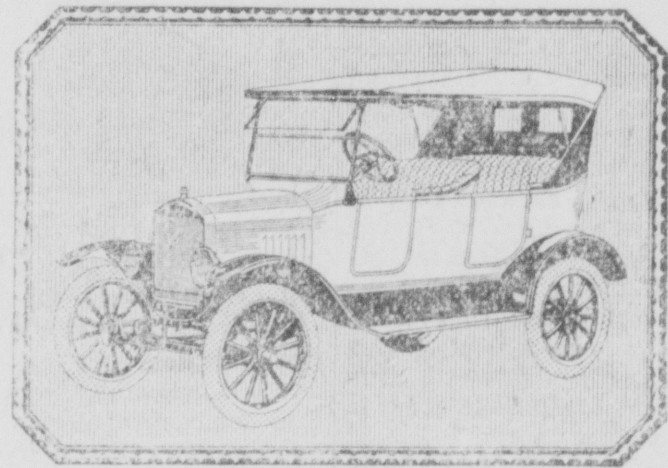

GOOD ADVICE.

All that Circleville needs to start an industrial revival is for its citizens to forget self and join hands in a whole hearted movement in bolstering up industry.

If each person will forget petty personal jealousy, stop knocking and begin to boost in an effective manner the city can easily double its population in five years at the same time doubling the value of every foot of property in the city. Boost, don't knock.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

New Touring Car

Looking at the new touring car from the side, you are at once favorably impressed with the effect of longer, more graceful lines secured by enlarging the cowl and raising the radiator.

Slanting windshield and one-man top lend material aid in giving the entire car a lower, more stylish appearance.

An apron connecting the radiator with the fender skirts is also a decided improvement.

A comfort feature much appreciated by owners, is the additional leg room provided by the enlargement of the cowl.

THE MESSAGE

By AGNES G. BROGAN

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

MISS ELEANOR sat, her soft blue eyes wide in wonder, her slim hands trembling as she lifted from the florist's box the marvel of her gift. It was long since flowers had come to Miss Eleanor; long since she had read the name written of the man who sent them.

It was marvelous how James Winters had traveled the way to worldly success. Eleanor subscribed for the city paper where he made his home and had followed his career, that she might have possible news of him. There was no notice of betrothal or marriage to grieve her, so she held to the fallacy of her faith. But there came word of his prominence in the profession of law and, later, the unbelievable achievement—James Winters became Mill City's mayor.

Last night Miss Eleanor had been unable to sleep; turning on her pillow in the moonlight which whitened the bedroom furnishings, she had gone over again the news the Mill City paper brought. The respected mayor was gravely ill; bulletins were issued every hour and the latest given was serious, indeed.

Nell was very cheery at breakfast; Connie joked and laughed with her sister as usual; Aunt Eleanor sat removed in thought from them both. Afternoon came to her feverishly—no paper until evening. Then, with the halm of twilight, had come a messenger's knock, a florist's box from Mill City. The name was on the cover—"To Miss Eleanor Meredith, Lyndenville." The package, marked "Fragile, Flowers," had been mailed that morning. She was glad that Nell and Connie were not there to see her bewildered joy. Unfastened, they lay before her—roses, red, and white, and pink. A card lay among the roses—"From James Winters to Nell."

Miss Eleanor gasped. Nell had been his little love name for her. She lifted the flowers reverently to her faded lips—red roses still, for love that had not died through an unexplainable silence.

Tears dropped on the flowers, tears of a chastened joy. She knew, some way, that James Winters was dead. Knew that the bulletins read by a sorrowing people now announced that fact. The roses told her so—his last message; that all had been well between them. So he belonged to her; so her faith found its reward.

Miss Eleanor looked out to where the twilight was replaced with silvery light, and knew, too, that she would be lonely no more. For her golden memories could never be empty memories.

Nell came, singing, to turn on the lights and found her aunt. For the first time Miss Eleanor, bending over her flowers, told the story of her love; told of its fulfillment in the late roses.

The Mill City paper came in the evening's mail. It was Connie, hurrying home from the post office, who handed out the family allowance. Miss Eleanor knew before she opened the sheet:

"James Winters, Mayor of Mill City, Dead." The article mentioned the fact of his bachelorhood. "I think," said Miss Eleanor, "that he is nearer me to-night than he has been through all the years."

Nell took the flowers and placed them in a choice blue vase. Tears were in her own bright eyes as she bent to kiss her aunt's cheeks.

"I hope," said Nell, "that I shall love grandly like that." She caught up her cape and went running through the garden; still on, down the road. The 8:40 was chugging into the station. A young man sprang from the car and looked eagerly about. Nell went to meet him. They clasped hands.

"I found my way promptly, you see," said the young man, "but, dear, I must hurry back to the city. You have read, no doubt, of my uncle's death—James Winters of Mill City?"

Nell slipped her arm through his as they walked along the road. "Yes," she replied. "I read the notice, Jim—and I learned a life secret. My dear little aunt has been in love with your uncle all her life. I am afraid that he forgot. But always she has awaited a message from him; waited in happy confidence. Today your beautiful flowers came when I was out. She read her name—which is also mine—on the cover, and on the inclosed card was a name which I have not repeated to her. She supposed that the box was addressed to her and so—so I found her with the roses pressed against her face—a transfigured face in the belief that her wish had come true—her lover of the past had not forgotten. His last thought—had it not been of her? Dear, I allowed her to think so; and I would not have her undecieved. I want to think that your uncle would have sent such a message if he had been able. I want to think that her faith must have its way. I had intended to tell her tonight about my meeting with you at Elsie's home during my visit to Mill City, of our love which came so quickly, so truly. But in her happiness now, may we not put aside for a time our announcement until at least her flowers are another beautiful memory, to add to her past? You will go back to-night, Jim, but one day I shall send for you, then we will tell her of our meeting—then she will welcome you for this sake as well as for your own."

The young man's head bowed over the girl's; he held her close.

"We can afford to share a little joy," he agreed—and added, boyishly—"I bought every rose they had in the store to announce to you my coming, Nell—the white, the red, the pink."

SWINE BREEDERS

Good Account of Ton Litter Raised by Irwin Miller of Duval.

One of the features at the recent Ohio State fair especially to swine breeders was the ton-litter exhibit of big type Poland Chinas made by Irwin Miller of Duval, Pickaway county. A few days previous to the opening of the fair on August 4th to be exact, the litter reached six months of age and were weighed in at 2,500 pounds in the presence of about 50 neighboring farmers and several swine experts from the Ohio State university. The litter was so uniform in size, stretchy and so typical of the breed that Mr. Miller was induced to show them and their dam at the fair where they were admired by thousands during State fair week. The litter, which was not fat, but made up of good growthy pigs in good breeding condition and with good legs, answered the criticism sometimes made of ton-litter work that it is impossible to produce a ton litter without ruining them for breeding purposes and having them go down in the legs.

The litter, which consisted of eleven pigs, (there were twelve farrowed) six boars and five sows, come from pure-bred stock the dam being Liberator's Perfection 1250138, and the sire Big Security 2d 491291. The dam is large, weighing 500 pounds at farrowing and 600 pounds at present. She is very smooth, deep bodied and of the type that has been winning at the big shows. She demonstrated her ability in the show ring by winning second place in her class at the Ohio State fair, showing as a senior yearling and against sows averaging five months older, all this after producing the litter. This was her first litter and the weight is said to exceed that of any other to date in ton-litter work, here or elsewhere.

Mr. Miller bought Liberator's Perfection in Tennessee when she was three months old. She was 19 days over one year old when the litter was farrowed on February 25th. Her ration during the previous summer was ground wheat and milk, and blue grass pasture until October, then bran, ground oats, some wheat, a little oil meal and tankage until she was put in to farrow. She was then fed wheat middlings, bran and oil meal with meat cracklings. Mr. Miller's story of how he watched her at intervals thru the night while farrowing and the care he took to see that the pigs were not hurt, would be a good lesson for those whose losses are often heavy at farrowing time. He also kept complete records of feed used and weighed the litter on an average of once a week thruout the six months period. The litter was weaned on May 29th, the 84th day and they weighed at that time 735 pounds. On August 7 the 163d day they had passed the ton weight by 100 pounds. On the morning of the 180th day when taken from the feed lot the scales registered 2,510 pounds and stood at even 2,500 pounds an hour or so later when the official weighing was done.

After weaning the litter was fed separator milk and wheat middlings three times a day until the 26th of June. They had plenty of room for exercise and developed a good frame without getting fat. On July 3d the ration was changed to 16 1/2 pounds of ground wheat soaked in water from one feed to the next 20 pounds of ground corn, one quart of oil meal, made into thick slop with 3 1/2 gallons of separated milk with a small amount of salt and wood ashes added. They were fed morning and evening. The total amount of feed used and estimate of cost are as follows:

960 lbs. middlings	$20.12
21 1/2 bushels corn	18.21
4000 lbs. milk	10.00
50 lbs., oil meal	1.50

Total	$49.83
40 lbs. tankage	1.50
Pasture	4.00

After July 3d in feed lot—
28 1/2 bu. ground wheat 28.50
37 bu. ground corn 31.45
2,600 lbs. milk 6.50

Total cost $121.78

The Miller farm of 300 acres is one of the many good ones to be found in the Scioto Valley. It is well supplied with water, good blue grass pasture and better corn and wheat land does not exist. To all of this there are substantial farm buildings and a fine home where The Stockmen has been a welcome visitor for many years. These things alone are not all that is needed in producing ton litters, but back of it all must be good breeding, careful feeding and close attention to the welfare of the hogs. Mr. Miller seems to have combined all of these qualities in producing this excellent litter, but says he made some mis-

ADDRESSED ROTARIANS

H. G. Schneider of Columbus, representing the National Intra-Wall institute, gave a most interesting talk before the Rotary club at the Boggs hotel today and will make another address before the chamber of commerce next Tuesday evening.

The object of the Intra-Wall is to place each prisoner in appropriate employment when released from a penal institution. The work Mr. Schneider is interested in is philanthropic in its scope. The institution endeavors to prepare prisoners for some useful work, teach them a trade so that they will be better able to cope with the world when they are given their liberty.

Sunday Her Unlucky Day.

Empress Eugenie is said to have been haunted by a dread of Sundays. September 4, 1870, the day the mob invaded the Tuilleries, was a Sunday; it was on a Sunday that she learned the news of the death of the prince imperial, and she herself died on a Sunday.

AMUSEMENTS

"June Madness" is the title of the new Metro picture which comes to the Met theater Thursday for two days and it depicts the madcap adventures of a sprightly young miss, played by Viola Dana, who breaks away from her own wedding ceremony leaving a million dollar bridegroom flat and speechless. She is chased by mamma, friends, unshers, clergyman and relatives of the million dollar fish, but outside the church she meets a hundred dollar jazz king and orchestra leader in his roadster. He helps her to escape from the horrors of a life of luxury. The jazz king, played by Bryant Washburn is no inconsiderable party himself and makes a lot of unwilling people dance to his tune. Even the little runaway bride cannot bluff him, altho he has his troubles with her. The escape is only the beginning, for the complications complicate until little Miss Clytie's adventures seem with out end or untanglement. The two are no sooner out of one trouble than they are in another, the only things they miss being possibly mumps and the taxes. They elude their pursuers by land water strategy and the good fortune which follows such charming adventures. It is a speedy story, full of thrills.

There is a picturesque scene at a roadhouse, where Miss Dana does an unusual "Wedding Dance" in an unusual costume. Miss Dana's gowns also are a feature of the production which holds special appeal to feminine photoplay patrons.

Quick Printing.
To celebrate the advance of the printer's art, particularly its increase in speed, a Caxton memorial Bible was wholly printed and bound in 12 hours in 1877. Only 100 copies were struck off.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Neuding, near the Circleville Ice Plant was the scene of a merry gathering Tuesday evening, Wednesday being the anniversary of the birth of Mrs. Neuding, a number of her friends gathered at the U. B. community house and proceeded by automobile to her home to surprise her. The joke was upon the guests for a few minutes however, Mrs. Neuding happened to go to the door and spied a line of automobiles turning in the driveway of the ice plant and knowing this was an unusual thing for so many folks to come after ice at such an hour, she took the cue and darting out, hid herself in the garden. After much merriment she was discovered and ushered in among her self invited guests where best wishes were extended and several beautiful gifts were presented to her among them being a pair of polychrome candlesticks, a hand embroidered luncheon cloth, a very pretty blue console set, a beautiful floor lamp and a birthday cake with a tiny candle for each year on it. A large bonfire was made in the open where the guests merrily roasted weiners and toasted marshmallows which, together with cake and cocoa constituted the refreshments of the evening. Conversation and victrola music closed the most enjoyable evening. The guests departed wishing Mrs. Neuding many more happy anniversaries. Among those present were the Misses Audrey Buskirk, Bernice Buskirk, Maggie Mavis, Mary Howard, Gertrude Steele, Mary Callahan, Minnie Callahan, Elizabeth Baker, Alma Willoughby, Florence Willoughby, Carrie LaMaster Messrs. Fred Powell, Claude Kraft, Floyd Roseboom, Floyd Bartley, Alva Wilkison, Bundy Hendrix, Carl Barnes Mrs. C. O. Kerns, Mrs. Paul Stein, Mrs. Roy Purcell and little cousin of Bainbridge; Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Elliot and three sons, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Millrons and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Kirkpatrick and son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ankrom and Mr. and Mrs. John Kerns.

Mrs. John Henderson of Columbus, entertained to a dinner party at the Lazarus store today. The following ladies from this city were among the guests: Mrs. W. J. Weaver, Mrs. T. C. Millar, Mrs. Charles W. Olds, Mrs. W. L. Peters, Mrs. W. S. Gearhart, Mrs. N. A. Warner and Mrs. George H. Pontius. In the afternoon Mrs. Henderson gave a reception at her home.

An Egyptian Orchestra.
A full Egyptian orchestra was composed of twenty harps, eight lutes, five or six flutes, six or seven double pipes, five or six flutes, one or two pipes (rarely used), two or three tambourines (seldom used). If vocalists were added, which was not necessarily the rule, they would number about three-fourths as many as the harpers.

Donahey to Attack Tax Acts.
Columbus, Oct. 11.—Governor Donahey plans to back up his veto of the Taft and Albaugh taxation acts by taking an active part in the campaign to defeat the two measures at the November referendum. "I intend to get in a few licks at the two acts," said the governor. "I wouldn't miss an opportunity like this. But I'm going to hold my fire back until later." He added he would make at least two or three speeches against the ratification of the measures.

Two Killed in Robbery.
New York, Oct. 11.—Four bandits shot and killed Alexander Olikier, a watchman employed by Rothenberg's department store, but Olikier dropped Harry Cramer, an alleged member of the band, killing him. The other three bandits escaped in an automobile. Olikier was on his way to make a deposit at a bank nearby. The bandits escaped with a bag containing $12,500.

Strike May Be Settled.
Crooksville, O., Oct. 11.—Negotiations are under way to settle the pottery strike here, which has been in effect since last May. Eight hundred men of seven potteries are affected. The men demand 68 cents a day increase.

"Civic Crown."
This was merely a wreath of oak leaves with pendant acorns and was one of the most highly valued honors a Roman could attain. It was given for saving the life of a citizen in battle, at the same time killing the opponent and maintaining the ground upon which the fight took place. One to whom it was given had a right to wear it always.

Spread of Bathing in Europe.
Bathing came to Europe as one of the good results of the Crusades. The Knights of the Cross found baths in general use among the Saracens, and seeing what good things they were, on returning from those wars took the initiative for their introduction. In this they were highly successful first in England and from that to other countries. So popular did the bath become that it became customary to have one before ceremonies such as marriage or knighthood, and the people have been ever since learning the value of keeping their skins clean.

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 14

ISRAEL, A MISSIONARY NATION

LESSON TEXT—Exod. 19:1-6; Isa. 43:9-11; Isa. 45:20-22.

GOLDEN TEXT—"Ye shall be unto me a kingdom of priests and an holy nation."—Exod. 19:6.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God's Kindness to His People.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Why God Chose Israel.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Mission of the Chosen People.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Israel's Missionary Call.

1. Israel's Exalted Position (Exod. 19:1-6).

The descendants of Abraham had now become a multitude and the time had come to organize them into a nation. In order to enable them to see what a wonderful privilege was theirs, God displayed His majesty on Mount Sinai. In His message to them, He gave them a look backward and forward.

1. A Review of Their Past History (v. 4). He reminds them of what He had done to the Egyptians when He brought them out of their cruel bondage, and that His divine care over them had been as that of an eagle over her young. He had not merely brought them out of Egyptian bondage, but unto Himself. God's salvation is not merely deliverance from sin, but a union with Himself.

2. Promises of Future Greatness (vv. 5, 6). On condition of obedience to His voice, and faithfulness to their covenant obligations, He promised them a peculiar relationship to Him. This relationship is three-fold:

(1) The Lord's Peculiar Treasure Above All People. This is the treasure of Matt. 13:44. If this is recognized, the parable is quite clear. Failure to allow Scripture to interpret Scripture results in confusion.

(2) A Kingdom of Priests. "A Kingdom whose citizens are all priests living wholly in God's service and ever enjoying the right of access to Him." In this kingdom there is united sacerdotal privilege and royal dignity.

(3) A Holy Nation. A nation set apart for the work of God. Realizing this, they would be impelled to a standard of living which would be worthy of their high calling. Separation from sin and a positive stand for the right would always be demanded. The failure of this chosen nation is largely the explanation of the world's distress. Had Israel shown the nations the way to go, they would not have gone so far into sin.

II. Israel's Pressing Obligation (Isa. 43:9-11).

1. God's Challenge to the Heathen Nations (v. 9). They were asked to assemble their witnesses to see if they were able to make known the future as God had done through the prophets of Israel. They are either to make good their predictions or to acknowledge the truth as declared by God's prophets, namely, that God is the only God.

2. Israel, God's Witness (v. 10). This nation had been brought so clearly into touch with God, had so many times experienced His mighty hand to deliver, that they were competent witnesses. Not only the nation was a witness, but the prophets from that nation had so many times witnessed and their predictions were so completely fulfilled that the whole world knew that God was the one and only God and Savior. The only way the world can know that God is a forgiving God is through the witnessing of His redeemed people. How sorely this testimony is needed! How miserable has been Israel's failure!

III. Israel's Message (Isa. 45:20-22).

The message which Israel was to give was that God was the Savior of all the nations. Israel misinterpreted and misapplied this message. They claimed Him as their God and denied Him to the heathen. Though they have thus failed and the world is in darkness because of it, one day they shall go to the ends of the earth with it, and the result will be the ushering in of the Golden Age of which men of all ages have dreamed.

1. The Idolatrous Nations Are Invited to Draw In.

2. They Are Challenged to Bring Their Reasons for Worshipping Idols in the Light of the Fact That God the Savior Was the Only God.

3. They Are Given an Invitation to Look Unto God. They were not asked to do something to be saved, but to look to the Savior. Sinners today need only to look to Christ. What a wonderful day when Israel shall declare this message to all nations in the power of the Holy Spirit!

Safeguarding the Children.
Frederick Burlingham, American explorer, just returned from central Borneo, tells of methods employed by natives to protect young children from wild boar, boa constrictors, and poisonous insects. The children are swathed in garments and swung on rattan vines suspended between trees. Crocodiles take a large toll of children in Borneo, says the explorer, despite precautions taken.

Chinese Barbers.
The Chinese are not accustomed to tipping the barber. As a matter of fact the Chinese barber is very modest in his prices, and his patrons can obtain a hair cut, a head shave, a face shave, and in addition have his shoulders and back massaged, all for a sum total of less than 5 cents. The straight razor used by Chinese barbers is a triangular shaped blade with straight handle, folding up as does the American straight razor. The blades are made from old rails or any other crude steel which has outlived its usefulness in other directions.

EMPLOYMENT FOR MANY.
Every person in Circleville realizes how badly the city is handicapped by the lack of permanent all-year-around industry.

The Hinde Paper Box company it started here will employ 140 people at the start and more in the near future, paying liberal wages.

Coloring Silk in Cocoons.
Much interest has been awakened by the experiments at Lyons in feeding silkworms with leaves stained with various dyes in order to cause them to spin silk of corresponding hues. When fed on red food the worms spin red cocoons, and the silk seems to retain the color. The experiments with leaves stained blue have been less successful.

Although the expectation has been raised that this process may prove of commercial importance, the experimenters say that they do not expect to make any discoveries which will affect the industry of dyeing.

Market More Farm Products in 1923

Co-Operative Associations Making Good Use of Credit Facilities.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Co-operative associations will market considerably more farm products in 1923 than they did last year, it is indicated in reports to the Department of Agriculture. While it is impossible to estimate how much business they will do, the fact that new associations are being formed and old ones enlarged is ground for the belief that the amount of the year's crops to be marketed co-operatively will exceed all former figures. A big factor in promoting co-operative marketing is the improvement made in credit facilities recently.

First steps toward better credit accommodation for co-operatives were taken in 1921, when congress enlarged the powers of the War Finance Corporation. Up to date that organization has authorized advances to co-operatives amounting to more than $190,000,000. Although only $38,500,000 of the money has been actually used, the fact that it was available has been a powerful beneficial influence, say officials of the department.

Opening Lines of Credit.
Many co-operative associations are opening up lines of credit at the new intermediate credit banks, because the War Finance Corporation will cease making advances on February 29 next. It is believed the new institutions will function much as the War Finance Corporation has done in giving confidence and loosening up additional outside credit. They have already authorized advances of about $5,000,000 to farmers' co-operative associations handling cotton, wheat, wool, tobacco and canned fruits.

It is pointed out that the real service of the intermediate credit banks, like that of the War Finance Corporation, cannot be measured merely by the volume of their discounts or advances. Their chief value is seen in the fact that the credit made available by them often induces or encourages private financial institutions to offer credit accommodation, when otherwise they might stand aloof.

The intermediate credit banks seem likely nevertheless to operate soon on a bigger scale than was expected. Each of the twelve institutions was provided with a capital of $1,000,000 from the treasury immediately it was organized. Five of them have since called for additional capital to a total amount of $5,000,000, so that the present paid-in capital of the twelve banks is $17,000,000. Moreover, an issue of debentures to the amount of $10,000,000 has been sold in anticipation of a large demand for discounts and advances in the coming marketing season. Discounts of agricultural paper for banks have been made to the amount of $1,000,000 by the intermediate credit institutions.

Limiting Loans.
For the present, the federal farm loan board, which supervises the banks, is limiting loans and discounts to terms of nine months. Borrowers, however, have the practical assurance that the terms will be renewed when necessary. Reliance on renewals from the intermediate credit banks, according to officials of the Department of Agriculture, has a stronger justification than is the case where loans of commercial banks are concerned, because the latter are always under the obligation of protecting their deposit liabilities.

Although financing of co-operative associations probably will call for considerably more money this year than ever before, managers of such associations are confident all necessary accommodation will be available. They report that bankers all over the country are readily taking co-operative paper. One co-operative organization leader in Arizona says many associations in that state have not needed to borrow from the War Finance Corporation or the intermediate credit banks, because ample funds have been available to them from private bankers on very favorable terms.

Wide Area Covered Last Year in Barberry Fight

An area equivalent to 200 counties was covered during the last fiscal year in the farm-to-farm survey for barberry bushes. This is one step in the fight against wheat rust which is being carried on by the United States Department of Agriculture in co-operation with state agricultural colleges, state departments of agriculture, and the conference for the prevention of grain rust. The work consisted of a survey and resurvey for sprouting bushes and seedlings. It was carried on in Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota, Wisconsin, and Wyoming. In all, 740,855 bushes were removed from 3,799 properties in the preliminary survey while 66,670 sprouting bushes and 2,138 seedlings were destroyed in the follow-up campaign.

Since the beginning of the barberry eradication work in 1918 practically all cities and villages of the thirteen states within the quarantine area have been surveyed. In the original farm-to-farm survey an area equivalent to 484 counties has been covered, including 60 counties surveyed on funds furnished by states. In the five years a total of 5,234,946 bushes and seedlings have been destroyed on 53,610 properties.

The Bushel as a Weight.

A bushel is now regarded as a definite weight rather than a measure of cubic contents. Various products, however, have different weights to the bushel. Wheat, according to the bureau of crop estimates, weighs 60 pounds to the bushel.

NOW IS TIME TO HELP.

Now that the Hinde Paper Box company has selected the site for their new Container Plant, there is no longer any reason for our people withholding their support from the project. Fibre containers are used here in very large quantities. The city is badly in need of steady employment for its people. Let everyone subscribe as they can afford and help get the good work started.

THE WONDER OF THE AGE

THE HOT BLAST AIR TIGHT FLORENCE

NO SMOKE! NO SOOT! NO DIRT! NO CLINKERS! EVERYTHING IS CONSUMED.

At the end of the season's use with soft coal, there will be no soot in the pipe or flue

The Zenith of Stove Perfection

The only jointless leg bottom and base with full radiation and large ash pan that is on the market! or has ever been made in the history of the stove industry.

The jointless leg bottom and base makes the stove air-tight below the grate, which is the only true fire keeping principle.

It will be as good a fire keeper twenty years hence as it is today.

The Hot Blast Air-Tight Florence will heat twice the space that can be heated by any other stove on earth at one-half the cost.

The only perfect floor heater that is or has ever been made.

All features are patented and no stove manufacturer, dealer or user can copy or use same until the expiration of the patent without incurring liability for an action for damages.

THE HOT BLAST AIR-TIGHT FLORENCE burns soft coal or slack and all the smoke and gases. No filling up of the stove, pipe or flue with soot. No dirt inside or outside the house. It will burn hard coal and all the gases which escape from the hard coal base burner. It will burn wood and sawdust, wet or dry. It will produce one-half less ashes than any other stove on earth with any kind of fuel and leave no clinkers or half consumed fuel.

Tax Pamphlets Out.

Columbus, Oct. 11.—Secretary of State Brown is sending out the publicity pamphlets on the Taft and Albaugh taxation measures, up for referendum at the November election, and the inflated old age pension bill, submitted to the voters on the same ballot. The pamphlets, as provided by law, carry the texts of the three measures, together with arguments for and against each, as prepared by proponents and opponents of each.

Explosion on Submarine.

Los Angeles, Oct. 11.—An explosion aboard one of the S type submarines of the Pacific fleet in Los Angeles harbor is reported to have cost the lives of two men, members of the crew. In addition, it is said, several members of the crew were injured. The explosion is said to have been due to a defective battery.

Mrs. Harding's Plans.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Mrs. Florence Kling Harding will spend the coming winter in Washington, but her future home has not been decided, her friends have been informed. She is staying now in Marion.

"AUNT JEMIMA" VICTIM OF AUTO

Colored Mammy of Pancake Fame Crushed to Death in Chicago; Born in Kentucky.

Chicago.—Pancake season is here, but in some Chicago households the sizzling of the griddle will bring memories tinged with sadness.

"Aunt Jemima" is dead. The aged negro woman whose ability to make "flapjacks" was capitalized by millers, whose bandanna-wreathed smile forms a mental picture for thousands of lovers of "a plate of wheats" and whose skill with the pancake turner furnished amusement for and drew the envy of those who have attended expositions and fairs ever since the Chicago World's fair of 1893, fell a victim to an automobile in Chicago recently.

Her death marks the passing of an interesting character who will be mourned not only by the negro race but by numerous wealthy Chicago families as well. For Mrs. Nancy Green will live longest in memory as "Aunt Jemima."

Was Born in Kentucky.

"Aunt Jemima" was born in Montgomery county, Ky., in 1834 and came to Chicago as a nurse for the Walker family. She nursed and made pancakes for the late Circuit Judge Charles M. Walker, chief justice of the Municipal court, and his brother, Dr. Samuel Walker, now a leading North side physician, when they were boys. They spread her fame among their boy chums, and before long "Aunt Jemima's pancakes" became a common phrase in Chicago when good things to eat were discussed.

A milling concern heard of her, searched her out, obtained her recipe and induced her to make pancakes at the World's fair. After that she went from one exposition to another demonstrating her skill. There was one, however, that she refused to attend—the Paris exposition. All inducements that could be made were put forward, but "Aunt Jemima" refused to budge.

Refused to Cross Ocean.

"No, suh," she said. "They ain't no man gonna git me on th' watah. I was bo'n in this country 'n' I'm gonna die heah, not some wheah 'twixt heah an' some wheah's else."

She was one of the first colored missionary workers and one of the organizers of the Olivet Baptist church, now the largest colored church in the world, with a membership of over 9,000.

Urges Chinese Manners for American Children

Bridgewater, N. Y.—"Chinese manners" as an antidote to the all-too-prevalent habit of young women powdering their noses in public, was suggested as a course to given in public schools by Dr. Henry Neuman of the Ethical Culture school of New York, one of the principal speakers, at the recent sixth annual conference of state normal schools.

Popular jazz songs he flatly denounced and declared that the singing of "Yes, We Have No Bananas" is a sign of mental poverty.

"I think it would be a good idea to teach our children a little about Chinese manners in the public schools, as a corrective against what I term 'subway manners.' We might get the young women to stop powdering their noses in public."

Doctor Neumann decried the fact that he hears young people the country over playing "Yes, We Have No Bananas" and "Barney Google" ten times in succession. "We must give them something better, so they can understand how pathetic and stupid such music is."

Boys Discover Skulls While Playing Pirates

New York.—Jacob Goldberg, aged eleven, and five young companions, fierce in their burned cork eyebrows, wooden swords and bandanna-swathed heads, went seeking treasure they had buried on a previous sailing of the South seas.

An old map pointed to a sand heap in Brooklyn, a short distance from Jacob's home. They began to dig, and they found four bleached skulls.

Policeman McDonough took the skulls to the Miller avenue station, accompanied by the "pirates."

Buzzard at Train to Greet Visitors

Saranap, Calif.—Incensed because of the actions of an unidentified buzzard, which insists on meeting all trains, the citizens of Saranap, Calif., have organized to do away with the bird. It's a bad "ad" for the town, they say.

The bird appears about train time and perches on a post near the depot. Saranap boosters declare the buzzard has been trained to "do his stuff" by a rival town, jealous of Saranap's growth during the last year.

GIANTS GRAB FIRST GAME

Stengel's Homer in the Ninth Breaks Tie and Wins.

YANKEES OUTHIT OPPONENTS

Hoyt Retires in Third When Giants Bunch Bingles and Score Four Runs—Fielding Plays by Groh and Kelly Cut Off Yankee Runners. From the Plate—Opening Game of World's Series a Brilliant Clash.

New York, Oct. 11.—The most luminous game of the play by the splendid opening game of the world's series which the Giants won from the Yankees yesterday were: Old "Casey" Stengel's home run to far left center in the first half of the ninth inning, with two out and the count two strikes and three balls. This won the game.

A marvelous catch of Joe Dugan's fly into short center by Second Baseman Frank Frisch of the Giants, and his throw to Catcher Snyder in time to get Babe Ruth, trying to score from third after the catch.

A marvelous stop back of first of Babe Ruth's whistling drive by George Kelly, when it seemed a sure hit, his lightning throw to the plate to catch Joe Dugan, tearing in from third, where he had gone on a triple. This play will always sparkle brilliantly in the annals of baseball. It came in the seventh inning.

The play by Frisch in the sixth inning, after Wally Schang of the Yankees had doubled, in which the Giants' famous second sacker snared Scott's drive far to his left.

First run was scored by the Yankees in the first when Dugan walked and was forced by Ruth. The latter scored on Meusel's double. In the second the Yankees scored two more on singles by Ward, Schang and Witt. The Yankees' final tally was added in the seventh on Bush's single and Dugan's triple.

Four runs were scored by the Giants in the third inning. Kelly singled. Gowdy walked. Maguire ran for Gowdy. Bentley, batting for Watson, singled. Gearing ran for Bentley. Kelly scored when Bancroft forced Gearing at second. Scott to Ward. Bancroft stole second. Groh tripled, scoring Maguire and Bancroft. Groh scored when Frisch singled. In the ninth Stengel's home run broke the tie and won the game.

Fighting Forest Fires.

Superior, Wis., Oct. 11.—National guardsmen are assisting hundreds of citizens in Douglas county to fight forest fires which threaten to sweep several villages. The village of Blueberry, Lake Nebagamon, Hawthorne and several other small communities are in danger, according to the reports. Many homes have been destroyed and several highways have been closed to traffic. Mildred Kolva, 8, wandered into the woods near Mohawk, Mich., and was burned to death.

RADICAL CHANGE SOUGHT

Bill Restricting Immigration Prepared by Davis and Johnson.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Secretary of Labor Davis and Representative Albert Johnson, chairman of the house immigration committee, have completed an immigration bill, which Johnson will introduce early in the coming session of congress. All summer Davis and Johnson have been working on the bill, which proposes to make a radical change in the admission of European immigrants, greatly increasing the proportion of the Nordic peoples and practically cutting off the Mediterranean and many of the central European nations.

It is proposed to do all this by simply going back to the census of 1890 and using that year as the base on which to calculate the quotas instead of 1910 as at present, and to reduce the proportions to 2 per cent instead of 3 per cent, as under the present Dillingham law.

Even if such a bill could be passed, it would not go into effect until July 1, 1924, when the present immigration laws will expire. But the question of the constitutionality of the law has already arisen.

New Wage Scale in Effect.

Toledo, Oct. 11.—A new wage and working agreement is in effect between employees of Indiana, Columbus and Eastern Traction company and Receiver J. H. McClure of the road. The agreement calls for a 10-hour working day, affecting many employees at Lima and Springfield, until Aug. 15, 1924. The wages agreed upon for the interurban lines call for 41 cents an hour for first three months of employment; next nine months 45 cents, and after second year 52 cents. Freight brakemen are to get 40 cents.

PROBER MAKES REPORT

Supervisor of the State Hospital For Epileptics Is Exonerated.

Columbus, Oct. 11.—Complete exoneration of E. J. Wilson, supervisor at the state hospital for epileptics at Gallipolis, is made in the report of H. J. Burton, special investigator named by Governor Donahey to probe charges filed against the supervisor. The complaints were filed in the form of affidavits by R. W. Mack, Gallipolis attorney, citing many alleged offenses and demanding the supervisor's dismissal. Investigator Burton interviewed all sorts and conditions of citizens at Gallipolis, according to his report to Welfare Director John E. Harper, and the unanimous verdict testifies to the good character and efficiency of Mr. Wilson.

First Game's Receipts.

New York, Oct. 11.—Attendance and receipts for the first world series game broke all previous records. Total attendance was 55,307. Total receipts $181,912. Of the total sum the players will get $92,775.12. Each club will get $39,925.05. The baseball commission will get $27,286.80.

Trade Pact With Germany.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Negotiations involving the drafting of a new commercial treaty with Germany will be begun here soon, it was learned at the state department. Similar treaties of "commerce and amity" with Austria, Finland, Latvia and Estonia are also under consideration, it was said.

SEES NEW WAR IN EUROPE

Lloyd George Criticises Nations Which Continue to Arm.

WORLD PEACE THREATENED

Former British Premier In a Speech to a Crowd at Toronto Declares There Will Be Another Clash of Arms in Europe Unless Something Intervenes—Also Openly Attacks the League of Nations.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 11.—Nations in Europe which continue to arm for war were sharply criticised by former Premier Lloyd George in his speech to an audience of 5,000 here.

Naming France, Italy, Belgium and Poland as among the nations which signed the covenant of the league of nations in the belief that it meant world peace, Lloyd George declared: "I see these nations of Europe filling their arsenals with the weapons that ravaged Europe for five years. They signed the covenant to keep peace and are now arming for war."

This arraignment of the nations which, according to Lloyd George, threaten world peace, was accompanied by a stirring appeal to all the dominions of the British empire to stand together to resist another war. It was evident also that he cherishes the hope of being able in some manner to get the United States to join Great Britain in a world peace movement of some kind and that the object of his American tour is to spread the seed of an Anglo-American accord that may bring the two nations together to check Europe's warlike moves.

Lloyd George's ideas upon this subject probably will be developed more clearly when his tour is finished of the Canadian provinces and he crosses over into the United States. Passionately declaring that the world wants no more war, Lloyd George said Europe still is depending upon force. He said he wished Europe were tired of war, adding: "The last war was terrible, it was ghastly, it was devastating. But it is nothing compared with what will happen with the world if there should be another war, and there will be another war in Europe unless something intervenes."

The speech openly attacked the league of nations, in the creation of which Lloyd George was an important factor at the Versailles conference. He praised the spirit of Canada in the war, pointing out that by reason of Canada's signature to the treaty it was given a "charter of nationhood" for the first time in history.

NATIONAL SCHOOL FOR CRIME ALLEGED

Former Students Found Among Bandits, It Is Said.

Los Angeles, Oct. 11.—"Business" activities of a national school of crime, with its headquarters in Washington, are being investigated by the federal grand jury here.

Former students of the university, it is asserted, are to be found among the postoffice robbers and bank bandits of the country. The school's faculty, it is further charged, is made up of former employees of the United States government and men from other not-to-be-suspected callings, including even brokers and bankers.

Robert Wilson, former clergyman, mail robber and now serving a sentence in San Quentin state penitentiary, following conviction on a murder charge, is said to have been a student of the crime "university," where he learned to make nitroglycerin. Data presented to the grand jury here told of results of an investigation by the postal authorities into the asserted activities of the ring and whose depredations, it is estimated, have cost owners of securities largely at least $16,000,000. Department store robberies and bank holdups all over the country contributed their share to this total, it is asserted.

The data presented to the grand jury represented, it is reported, 10 months of checking details of a confession made here by Wilson about a year ago, prior to being taken to prison to begin service of his sentence. As a result the return of at least a score of indictments is regarded as a certainty, with the indicted persons in many places throughout the United States.

DOINGS IN OHIO

Next Matron of Girls' School.

Columbus, Oct. 11.—Mrs. Margaret Elton of New Vienna, O., may be the next chief matron of the Girls' Industrial school, near Delaware. Mrs. Elton stood first in the eligible list certified by the state civil service commission, as a result of the competitive examination held several weeks ago. Mrs. Mattie E. Pangborn, now acting chief matron, stood second on the list, and Dr. Victoria A. Nash of Toledo was third. Mrs. Elton is the wife of Colonel J. P. Elton, for several years superintendent of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' home at Xenia.

To Enlarge Game Preserve.

Columbus, Oct. 11.—Increase of the acreage of the Roosevelt game preserve in Scioto county from 15,000 to 25,000 acres is the major aim of the program of the fish and game division, according to D. O. Thompson, chief. Following a visit by Agricultural Director Truax to the preserve, plans were laid for making the preserve a place to which persons from every part of the state would go for a sight-seeing trip. New bridges and improvements are to be made, and the population of deer and wild turkeys will be increased as fast as possible, Thompson says.

Another Arrest in Bushnell Case.

Dayton, O., Oct. 11.—A new angle to the blackmail case involving John L. Bushnell, former president of the First National bank at Springfield, developed in federal circles here with the arrest of Albert Harris of Hollywood, Cal. It is alleged that Harris blackmailed Bushnell in an effort to procure sufficient funds to meet the bond under which Rose Putnam and Don Osborn are being held in the jail at Troy pending their trial before Judge Smith Hickenlooper of the Cincinnati federal court.

Dry Sleuth's Home Blown Up.

Stuebenville, O., Oct. 11.—The home of Charles Pearce, 36, prohibition enforcement officer at Smithfield, O., west of here, was blown up by dynamite. Pearce, his wife and baby escaped serious injury. The blast partially wrecked the city hall opposite the Pearce home, the Spragg restaurant, the home of Mrs. Mary Meryman and broke windows in three score residences.

Cashier Hecht Sentenced.

Cincinnati, Oct. 11.—Frederick W. Hecht, former cashier of the American National bank of Dayton, who pleaded guilty to 30 counts in an indictment charging embezzlement of $306,537.69, was sentenced to serve 10 years in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga. The American National bank, of which Hecht was cashier for six years, has been absorbed by the Merchants' National bank.

Tire Plant to Be Reopened.

Akron, O., Oct. 11.—The Akron plant of the Kelly-Springfield Tire company will be reopened next Monday, it was announced here. This factory was closed recently when the company concentrated its tire manufacturing in Cumberland, Md.

Suspect Arrested.

Piqua, O., Oct. 11.—Frank Muto, 28, of this city, suspect in the murder of Mrs. Gertrude Grubbs here Sept. 23, is under arrest in Pocomontas, Va., according to dispatches received here.

SPURNS BERLIN GOVERNMENT

French Premier Negotiating With Ruhr Industrialists.

URNS DOWN GERMAN ENVOY

Poincare's Refusal to Talk Regarded in Paris as a Direct Check to the Stresemann Cabinet Which May Cause Its Downfall—Return to Normal Labor Conditions in the Ruhr May Take a Year.

Paris, Oct. 11.—Premier Poincare refused to negotiate the Ruhr question with the German government. He told the German charge d'affaires that instead France is negotiating with the industrialists.

The German envoy told the French premier that Chancellor Stresemann wished to discuss the problem of resuming payment of reparations in kind. "No discussion is necessary," was the reply of Premier Poincare. "We will talk when you start deliveries and when the Ruhr laborers return to work."

The premier's reply is regarded here as a direct check to the Stresemann cabinet, which may cause its downfall. The effect of the French refusal to talk to the Berlin government is to place the industrialists above the government, say diplomats.

Meanwhile it is pointed out here: First, that the return to normal labor conditions in the Ruhr may take a year owing to the demoralization of the workers, who for nine months have been living without work; second, that France must loan the industrialists money with which to pay their workers, otherwise mining will be impossible, and third, that under any circumstances conditions in the Ruhr are such that it may be months before the Ruhr can return to the status which obtained in January, when the valley was occupied, while the real problem—payment of cash reparations—is made almost hopeless by the bankruptcy of the reich.

The British government, according to a well informed source of information at Berlin, is said to have made a highly confidential suggestion to the German government that Germany conclude with Britain a separate agreement for railway traffic in Ruhr region and regarding exports through the British occupied zone, which has Cologne for its center. This suggestion, it is stated, was made in London through German Ambassador Stahmer, who immediately telegraphed the proposal to the German foreign office. The arrangement is to be made in the form of a provisional agreement, which it is pointed out shall be concluded without reference to the attitude of France and Belgium. Should France and Belgium persist in their refusal to negotiate with Germany, the German government is declared ready to adopt the British suggestion.

FOR BEER AND WINE

Labor Federation Favors Amendment to Volstead Act.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 11.—By an overwhelming vote the American Federation of Labor went on record as favoring an amendment to the Volstead act, permitting the manufacturing and sale of beer and light wines. The dozen delegates who voted against the proposal, however, were militant in the extreme and fought with much spirit, insisting that prohibition had proved to be a blessing to the working man and his family. Other delegates wanted the federation to take a definite stand for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment, claiming that the enforcement of the prohibition act had brought about serious complications with friendly foreign powers, and had resulted in the consumption of vast quantities of bootleg liquor, sickness and death, and could never be enforced.

Dictatorship Bill Pressed.

Berlin, Oct. 11.—The Stresemann cabinet is given dictatorial powers for six months in the bill which passed its second reading in the reichstag. The government can no longer evade the issue raised by Hugo Stinnes, who, it now appears, sought a virtual industrial dictatorship.

Killed in Gun Battle.

Youngstown, O., Oct. 11.—Arthur Harris, 27, was killed in a gun battle between East Youngstown police and negroes. Harris was brought down with a bullet in the leg, but continued to fire at the policemen, whose return shots finally killed him.

DRUGGISTS' SUGGESTION

Some Governmental Agency Only Should Handle Liquor.

Cleveland, Oct. 11.—Officials of the Wholesale Druggists' association, in convention here, declare that less than 20 per cent of the members of the druggists' association handle liquor even for medicinal purposes. Yet suspicions are aroused and react to the injury of legitimate business by prejudicing public opinion.

That some government agency only should handle liquor and eliminate druggists entirely was a strong feeling in the convention. At present alcohol for industrial purposes is issued only by government permit and a rigid proportion between the volume of alcohol and the total volume of business is maintained. Certain stores, it is admitted, have made heavy price cuts to increase their volume of business as a blind for increasing their traffic in alcohol. But such cases are rare and the liquor responsibility thrust upon the druggists is generally regarded as a thorn in the side of a legitimate business.

Girls Tripped and Stripped.

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 11.—A powerfully built man has tripped four Iowa university girls within the last week and then stripped their bodies of clothing. The police are bending every effort to identify or capture the assailant. The latest victim is Miss Ruth McWilliams of Odeboult, Ia. Returning to Tudor cottage, an annex of Currier hall, with a girl friend, she was tripped, and her clothes were torn almost completely off by the giant before he was frightened away by men students attracted by the girl's screams.

Champion Potato Yield.

Piketon, O., Oct. 11.—Samuel Cooper of this place is claiming the champion potato yield of Ohio. In the spring Cooper plowed an acre and a half of ground that had not been broken for 12 years, it being a part of an old orchard. He planted five bushels of Chicago Market and five bushels of Seneca Beauty potatoes. The Seneca Beauties yielded 100 bushels or 20 bushels for each bushel planted. The Chicago Market yielded 125 bushels or 25 bushels for each bushel planted.

GRIEVANCES ALLEGED

Strike of Miners in Wilkesbarre District May Spread.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 11.—With 19,000 miners employed by the Hudson Coal company on strike walkout of all miners of the Glen Alden Coal company's collieries looms. While the men at the Dodge collieries of the Glen Alden were voting to return to work after a strike lasting several days 1,500 men at the Bliss colliery, near Nanticoke, walked out, alleging bad mining conditions and illegal shifts for fan runners.

The general grievance committee of the Glen Alden miners said every colliery had a list of grievances and unless the company adjusted them at once, every man will be called out.

Auto Goes Through Fence.

Cincinnati, Oct. 11.—Leroy Weber, 29, was killed and two other persons, one a woman, were injured when the auto in which they were riding plowed through a fence near Harrison, O.

Railroad Dividends

-and Taxes

LAST year the Pennsylvania Railroad System paid out more in taxes than in dividends. Out of every dollar received 4.38 cents was paid in taxes, while only 4.34 cents was paid in dividends.

In the year 1913 the total dividends paid to railroad stockholders were about two and a half times the total railroad taxes. In the year 1922 the taxes paid were 11 per cent greater than the aggregate dividends.

The cash dividends paid in 1913 totaled $322,300,406 and the taxes $127,725,809. Dividends in 1922 totaled $271,576,000 and taxes $301,003,227. In the ten-year period, 1913 to 1922, therefore, taxes increased about 135 per cent while dividends decreased about 16 per cent.

The increase in taxes is due in part to an increase of approximately five billion dollars in the property investment of the railroads between 1913 and 1922. But, while the total investment and value of railroad property devoted to public service during this period has increased about 33 per cent, and taxes upon the property 135 per cent, the total compensation to railway stockholders has decreased 16 per cent.

100 PER CENT PERFECT WHITE

Made From Pure Barium Sulphate—No Black Shows a Complete Absence of Color.

Black has ordinarily been called "no color," and taken to denote the absence of color. Likewise, white, being constituted of all colors, may also be considered as no color. A white body is assumed to reflect all the light that strikes it. There is no absorption and hence there is no color. A black body absorbs all the light that impinges upon it and reflects none, therefore there is absence of all color.

Theoretically this is true, but there is no white that will reflect 100 per cent of the light, and no black that will absorb 100 per cent of the light. We often hear of a whitest white, until a whiter one comes along and displaces it from its position of eminence. The same fact holds good for black. But, inasmuch as some white must be taken as a standard of comparison a choice must be made of the whitest white. Pure barium sulphate is, accordingly, taken as the 100 per cent perfect white, the white which reflects all the light that strikes it.

From a practical standpoint it is equally incorrect to state that black denotes absence of all color. For one black is blacker than the next and the blackest black, which is assumed to have no color at all, may be found to possess some light trace of color when compared with another new black. Furthermore, as the eye is not absolutely perfect and as its sensitivity is not infinite absence of light, as defined by the sensation produced in it, is relative only. Even the deepest black would exhibit traces of color, would reflect a little light, if our eyes were sensitive enough to detect it.—Scientific American.

Oyster Gatherers.

It takes 6,000 laborers to supply the American public with its customary first dinner course, says Luther C. Fry, writing in World's Work. This force includes entire families, as well as single men. The father works on the boats which gather the oysters by dredging or tonging. His wife and children can and prepare them for market.

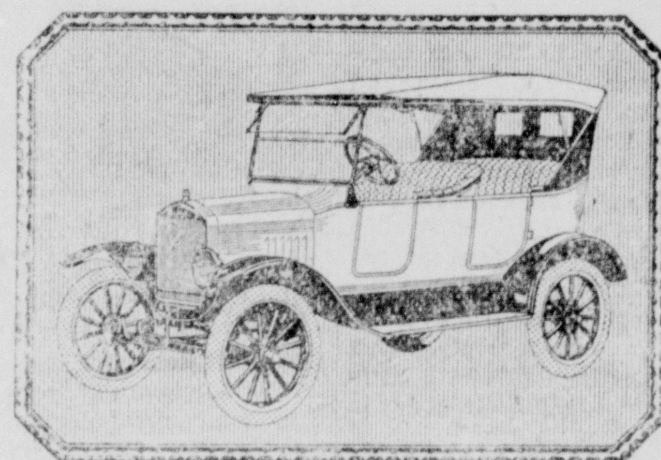

GOOD ADVICE.

All that Circleville needs to start an industrial revival is for its citizens to forget self and join hands in a whole hearted movement in bolstering up industry.

If each person will forget petty personal jealousy, stop knocking and begin to boost in an effective manner the city can easily double its population in five years at the same time doubling the value of every foot of property in the city. Boost, don't knock.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

New Touring Car

Looking at the new touring car from the side, you are at once favorably impressed with the effect of longer, more graceful lines secured by enlarging the cowl and raising the roof.

Slanting windshield and one-man top lend material aid in giving the entire car a lower, more stylish appearance.

An apron connecting the radiator with the fender skirts is also a decided improvement.

A comfort feature much appreciated by owners, is the additional leg room provided by the enlargement of the cowl.

THE MESSAGE

By AGNES G. BROGAN

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)
MISS ELEANOR sat, her soft blue eyes wide in wonder, her slim hands trembling as she lifted from the florist's box the marvel of her gift. It was long since flowers had come to Miss Eleanor; long since she had read the name written of the man who sent them.
It was marvelous how James Winters had traveled the way to worldly success. Eleanor subscribed for the city paper where he made his home and had followed his career, that she might have possible news of him. There was no notice of betrothal or marriage to grieve her, so she held to the fallacy of her faith. But there came word of his prominence in the profession of law and, later, the unbelievable achievement—James Winters became Mill City's mayor.
Last night Miss Eleanor had been unable to sleep; turning on her pillow in the moonlight which whitened the bedroom furnishings, she had gone over again the news the Mill City paper brought. The respected mayor was gravely ill; bulletins were issued every hour and the latest given was serious, indeed.
Nell was very cheery at breakfast; Connie joked and laughed with her sister as usual; Aunt Eleanor sat removed in thought from them both. Afternoon came to her feverishly—no paper until evening. Then, with the hail of twilight, had come a messenger's knock, a florist's box from Mill City. The name was on the cover—"To Miss Eleanor Meredith, Lyndenville." The package, marked "Fragile, Flowers," had been mailed that morning. She was glad that Nell and Connie were not there to see her bewildered joy. Unfastened, they lay before her—roses, red, and white, and pink. A card lay among the roses—"From James Winters to Nell."
Miss Eleanor gasped. Nell had been his little love name for her. She lifted the flowers reverently to her faded lips—red roses still, for love that had not died through an unexplainable silence.
Tears dropped on the flowers, tears of a chastened joy. She knew, some way, that James Winters was dead. Knew that the bulletins read by a sorrowing people now announced that fact. The roses told her so—his last message; that all had been well between them. So he belonged to her; so her faith found its reward.
Miss Eleanor looked out to where the twilight was replaced with silvery light, and knew, too, that she would be lonely no more. For her golden memories could never be empty memories.
Nell came, singing, to turn on the lights and found her aunt. For the first time Miss Eleanor, bending over her flowers, told the story of her love; told of its fulfillment in the late roses.
The Mill City paper came in the evening's mail. It was Connie, hurrying home from the post office, who handed out the family allowance. Miss Eleanor knew before she opened the sheet: "James Winters, Mayor of Mill City, Dead." The article mentioned the fact of his bachelorhood. "I think," said Miss Eleanor, "that he is nearer me tonight than he has been through all the years."
Nell took the flowers and placed them in a choice blue vase. Tears were in her own bright eyes as she bent to kiss her aunt's cheeks.
"I hope," said Nell, "that I shall love grandly like that." She caught up her cape and went running through the garden; still on, down the road. The 8:40 was chugging into the station. A young man sprang from the car and looked eagerly about. Nell went to meet him. They clasped hands.
"I found my way promptly, you see," said the young man, "but, dear, I must hurry back to the city. You have read, no doubt, of my uncle's death—James Winters of Mill City?"
Nell slipped her arm through his as they walked along the road. "Yes," she replied. "I read the notice, Jim—and I learned a life secret. My dear little aunt has been in love with your uncle all her life. I am afraid that he forgot. But always she has awaited a message from him; waited in happy confidence. Today your beautiful flowers came when I was out. She read her name—which is also mine—on the cover, and on the inclosed card was a name which I have not repeated to her. She supposed that the box was addressed to her and so—so I found her with the roses pressed against her face—a transfigured face in the belief that her wish had come true—her lover of the past had not forgotten. His last thought—had it not been of her? Dear, I allowed her to think so; and I would not have her undecieved. I want to think that your uncle would have sent such a message if he had been able. I want to think that her faith must have its way. I had intended to tell her tonight about my meeting with you at Elsie's home during my visit to Mill City, of our love which came so quickly, so truly. But in her happiness now, may we not put aside for a time our announcement until at least her flowers are another beautiful memory, to add to her past? You will go back tonight, Jim, but one day I shall send for you, then we will tell her of our meeting—then she will welcome you for 'his' sake as well as for your own."
The young man's head bowed over the girl's; he held her close.
"We can afford to share a little joy," he agreed—and added, boyishly—"I bought every rose they had in the store to announce to you my coming, Nell—the white, the red, the pink."

SWINE BREEDERS

Good Account of Ton Litter Raised by Irwin Millar of Duval.

One of the features at the recent Ohio State fair especially to swine breeders was the ton-litter exhibit of big type Poland Chinas made by Irwin Millar of Duval, Pickaway county. A few days previous to the opening of the fair on August 4th to be exact, the litter reached six months of age and were weighed in at 2,500 pounds in the presence of about 50 neighboring farmers and several swine experts from the Ohio State university. The litter was so uniform in size, stretchy and so typical of the breed that Mr. Millar was induced to show them and their dam at the fair where they were admired by thousands during State fair week. The litter, which was not fat, but made up of good growthy pigs in good breeding condition and with good legs, answered the criticism sometimes made of ton-litter work that it is impossible to produce a ton litter without ruining them for breeding purposes and having them go down in the legs.

The litter, which consisted of eleven pigs, (there were twelve farrowed) six boars and five sows, come from pure-bred stock the dam being Liberator's Perfection 1250123. and the sire Big Security 2d 491291. The dam is large, weighing 500 pounds at farrowing and 600 pounds at present. She is very smooth, deep bodied and of the type that has been winning at the big shows. She demonstrated her ability in the show ring by winning second place in her class at the Ohio State fair, showing as a senior yearling and against sows averaging five months older, all this after producing the litter. This was her first litter and the weight is said to exceed that of any other to date in ton-litter work, here or elsewhere.

Mr. Millar bought Liberator's Perfection in Tennessee when she was three months old. She was 19 days over one year old when the litter was farrowed on February 25th. Her ration during the previous summer was ground wheat and milk, and blue grass pasture until October, then bran, ground oats, some wheat, a little oil meal and tankage until she was put in to farrow. She was then fed wheat middlings, bran and oil meal with meat cracklings. Mr. Millar's story of how he watched her at intervals thru the night while farrowing and the care he took to see that the pigs were not hurt, would be a good lesson for those whose losses are often heavy at farrowing time. He also kept complete records of feed used and weighed the litter on an average of once a week thruout the six months period. The litter was weaned on May 29th, the 84th day and they weighed at that time 735 pounds. On August 7 the 163d day they had passed the ton weight by 100 pounds. On the morning of the 180th day when taken from the feed lot the scales registered 2,510 pounds and stood at even 2500 pounds an hour or so later when the official weighing was done.

After weaning the litter was fed separator milk and wheat middlings three times a day until the 26th of June. They had plenty of room for exercise and developed a good frame without getting fat. On July 3d the ration was changed to 16½ pounds of ground wheat soaked in water from one feed to the next 20 pounds of ground corn, one quart of oil meal, made into thick slop with 3¼ gallons of separated milk with a small amount of salt and wood ashes added. They were fed morning and evening. The total amount of feed used and estimate of cost are as follows:

960 lbs. middlings	$20.12
21½ bushels corn	18.21
4000 lbs. milk	10.00
50 lbs., oil meal	1.50

Total	$49.83
40 lbs. tankage	1.50
Pasture	4.00

After July 3d in feed lot—
28½ bu. ground wheat 28.50
37 bu. ground corn 31.45
2,600 lbs. milk 6.50

Total cost $121.78

The Millar farm of 300 acres is one of the many good ones to be found in the Scioto Valley. It is well supplied with water, good blue grass pasture and better corn and wheat land does not exist. To all of this there are substantial farm buildings and a fine home where The Stockmen has been a welcome visitor for many years. These things alone are not all that is needed in producing ton litters, but back of it all must be good breeding, careful feeding and close attention to the welfare of the hogs. Mr. Millar seems to have combined all of these qualities in producing this excellent litter, but says he made some mis-

ADDRESSED ROTARIANS

H. G. Schneider of Columbus, representing the National Intra-Wall institute, gave a most interesting talk before the Rotary club at the Boggs hotel today and will make another address before the chamber of commerce next Tuesday evening.

The object of the Intra-Wall is to place each prisoner in appropriate employment when released from a penal institution. The work Mr. Schneider is interested in is philanthropic in its scope. The institution endeavors to prepare prisoners for some useful work, teach them a trade so that they will be better able to cope with the world when they are given their liberty.

Sunday Her Unlucky Day.

Empress Eugenie is said to have been haunted by a dread of Sundays. September 4, 1870, the day the mob invaded the Tuilleries, was a Sunday; it was on a Sunday that she learned the news of the death of the prince imperial, and she herself died on a Sunday.

AMUSEMENTS

"June Madness" is the title of the new Metro picture which comes to the Met theater Thursday for two days and it depicts the madcap adventures of a sprightly young miss, played by Viola Dana, who breaks away from her own wedding ceremony leaving a million dollar bridegroom flat and speechless. She is chased by mamma, friends, unshers, clergyman and relatives of the million dollar fish, but outside the church she meets a hundred dollar jazz king and orchestra leader in his roadster. He helps her to escape from the horrors of a life of luxury. The jazz king, played by Bryant Washburn is no inconsiderable party himself and makes a lot of unwilling people dance to his tune. Even the little runaway bride cannot bluff him, altho he has his troubles with her.

The escape is only the beginning, for the complications complicate until little Miss Clytie's adventures seem with out end or untanglement. The two are no sooner out of one trouble than they are in another, the only things they miss being possibly mumps and the taxes. They elude their pursuers by land water strategy and the good fortune which follows such charming adventures. It is a speedy story, full of thrills.

There is a picturesque scene at a roadhouse, where Miss Dana does an unusual "Wedding Dance" in an unusual costume. Miss Dana's gowns also are a feature of the production which holds special appeal to feminine photoplay patrons.

"June Madness" was written by Crosby George and adapted and directed by Harry Beaumont.

The great industry James J. Hinde built at Sandusky and other cities, prospered because of liberal wages.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Neuding, near the Circleville Ice Plant was the scene of a merry gathering Tuesday evening, Wednesday being the anniversary of the birth of Mrs. Neuding, a number of her friends gathered at the U. B. community house and proceeded by automobile to her home to surprise her. The joke was upon the guests for a few minutes however, Mrs. Neuding happened to go to the door and spied a line of automobiles turning in the driveway of the ice plant and knowing this was an unusual thing for so many folks to come after ice at such an hour, she took the cue and darting out, hid herself in the garden. After much merriment she was discovered and ushered in among her self invited guests where best wishes were extended and several beautiful gifts were presented to her among them being a pair of polychrome candlesticks, a hand embroidered luncheon cloth, a very pretty blue console set, a beautiful floor lamp and a birthday cake with a tiny candle for each year on it. A large bonfire was made in the open where the guests merrily roasted wieners and toasted marshmallows which, together with cake and cocoa constituted the refreshments of the evening. Conversation and victrola music closed the most enjoyable evening. The guests departed wishing Mrs. Neuding many more happy anniversaries. Among those present were the Misses Audrey Buskirk, Bernice Buskirk, Maggie Mavis, Mary Howard, Gertrude Steele, Mary Callahan, Minnie Callahan, Elizabeth Baker, Alma Willoughby, Florence Willoughby, Carrie LaMaster Messrs. Fred Powell, Claude Kraft, Floyd Roseboom, Floyd Bartley, Alva Wilkison, Bundy Hendrix, Carl Barnes Mrs. C. O. Donahay to Attack Tax Acts.

Columbus, Oct. 11.—Governor Donahay plans to back up his veto of the Taft and Albaugh taxation acts by taking an active part in the campaign to defeat the two measures at the November referendum. "I intend to get in a few licks at the two acts," said the governor. "I wouldn't miss an opportunity like this. But I'm going to hold my fire back until later." He added he would make at least two or three speeches against the ratification of the measures.

Two Killed in Robbery.

New York, Oct. 11.—Four bandits shot and killed Alexander Olikier, a watchman employed by Rothenberg's department store, but Olikier dropped Harry Cramer, an alleged member of the band, killing him. The other three bandits escaped in an automobile. Olikier was on his way to make a deposit at a bank nearby. The bandits escaped with a bag containing $12,500.

Strike May Be Settled.

Crooksville, O., Oct. 11.—Negotiations are under way to settle the pottery strike here, which has been in effect since last May. Eight hundred men of seven potteries are affected. The men demand 68 cents a day increase.

Spread of Bathing in Europe.

Bathing came to Europe as one of the good results of the Crusades. The Knights of the Cross found baths in general use among the Saracens, and seeing what good things they were, on returning from those wars took the initiative for their introduction. In this they were highly successful first in England and from that to other countries. So popular did the bath become that it became customary to have one before ceremonies such as marriage or knighthood, and the people have been ever since learning the value of keeping their skins clean.

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 14

ISRAEL, A MISSIONARY NATION

LESSON TEXT—Exod. 19:1-6; Isa. 43:9-11; Isa. 45:20-22.

GOLDEN TEXT—"Ye shall be unto me a kingdom of priests and an holy nation."—Exod. 19:6.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God's Kindness to His People.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Why God Chose Israel.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Mission of the Chosen People.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Israel's Missionary Call.

I. Israel's Exalted Position (Exod. 19:1-6).

The descendants of Abraham had now become a multitude and the time had come to organize them into a nation. In order to enable them to see what a wonderful privilege was theirs, God displayed His majesty on Mount Sinai. In His message to them, He gave them a look backward and forward.

1. A Review of Their Past History (v. 4). He reminds them of what He had done to the Egyptians when He brought them out of their cruel bondage, and that His divine care over them had been as that of an eagle over her young. He had not merely brought them out of Egyptian bondage, but unto Himself. God's salvation is not merely deliverance from sin, but a union with Himself.

2. Promises of Future Greatness (vv. 5, 6). On condition of obedience to His voice, and faithfulness to their covenant obligations, He promised them a peculiar relationship to Him. This relationship is three-fold:

(1) The Lord's Peculiar Treasure Above All People. This is the treasure of Matt. 13:44. If this is recognized, the parable is quite clear. Failure to allow Scripture to interpret Scripture results in confusion.

(2) A Kingdom of Priests. "A Kingdom whose citizens are all priests living wholly in God's service and ever enjoying the right of access to Him." In this kingdom there is united sacerdotal privilege and royal dignity.

(3) A Holy Nation. A nation set apart for the work of God. Realizing this, they would be impelled to a standard of living which would be worthy of their high calling. Separation from sin and a positive stand for the right would always be demanded. The failure of this chosen nation is largely the explanation of the world's distress. Had Israel shown the nations the way to go, they would not have gone so far into sin.

II. Israel's Pressing Obligation (Isa. 43:9-11).

1. God's Challenge to the Heathen Nations (v. 9). They were asked to assemble their witnesses to see if they were able to make known the future as God had done through the prophets of Israel. They are either to make good their predictions or to acknowledge the truth as declared by God's prophets, namely, that God is the only God.

2. Israel, God's Witness (v. 10). This nation had been brought so clearly into touch with God, had so many times experienced His mighty hand to deliver, that they were competent witnesses. Not only the nation was a witness, but the prophets from that nation had so many times witnessed and their predictions were so completely fulfilled that the whole world knew that God was the one and only God and Savior. The only way the world can know that God is a forgiving God is through the witnessing of His redeemed people. How sorely this testimony is needed! How miserable has been Israel's failure!

III. Israel's Message (Isa. 45:20-22).

The message which Israel was to give was that God was the Savior of all the nations. Israel misinterpreted and misapplied this message. They claimed Him as their God and denied Him to the heathen. Though they have thus failed and the world is in darkness because of it, one day they shall go to the ends of the earth with it, and the result will be the ushering in of the Golden Age of which men of all ages have dreamed.

1. The Idolatrous Nations Are Invited to Draw In.

2. They Are Challenged to Bring Their Reasons for Worshipping Idols in the Light of the Fact That God the Savior Was the Only God.

3. They Are Given an Invitation to Look Unto God. They were not asked to do something to be saved, but to look to the Savior. Sinners today need only to look to Christ. What a wonderful day when Israel shall declare this message to all nations in the power of the Holy Spirit!

God's Promise.

God hath promised pardon to him that repenteth, but he hath not promised repentance to him that sinneth.—St. Anselm.

Friendship.

Friendship is the nearest thing we know to what religion is. God is love.—Henry Drummond.

A Fool's Coat.

A fool may have his coat embroidered with gold, but it is a fool's coat still.—Rivarol.

Or a "Situation."

Safeguarding the Children.

Frederick Burlingham, American explorer, just returned from central Borneo, tells of methods employed by natives to protect young children from wild boar, boa constrictors, and poisonous insects. The children are swathed in garments and swung on rattan vines suspended between trees. Crocodiles take a large toll of children in Borneo, says the explorer, despite precautions taken.

Chinese Barbers.
The Chinese are not accustomed to tipping the barber. As a matter of fact the Chinese barber is very modest in his prices, and his patrons can obtain a hair cut, a head shave, a face shave, and in addition have his shoulders and back massaged, all for a sum total of less than 5 cents. The straight razor used by Chinese barbers is a triangular shaped blade with straight handle, folding up as does the American straight razor. The blades are made from old rails or any other crude steel which has outlived its usefulness in other directions.

EMPLOYMENT FOR MANY.
Every person in Circleville realizes how badly the city is handicapped by the lack of permanent all-year-around industry.
The Hinde Paper Box company if started here will employ 140 people at the start and more in the near future, paying liberal wages.

Coloring Silk in Cocoons.
Much interest has been awakened by the experiments at Lyons in feeding silkworms with leaves stained with various dyes in order to cause them to spin silk of corresponding hues. When fed on red food the worm spins red cocoons, and the silk seems to retain the color. The experiments with leaves stained blue have been less successful.
Although the expectation has been raised that this process may prove of commercial importance, the experimenters say that they do not expect to make any discoveries which will affect the industry of dyeing.

"Yes'm; at the post office. But I noticed that you'd put the two-cent stamp on the foreign letter and the five-cent stamp on the city one."
"Oh, dear, what a blunder!"
"But I fixed it all right, ma'am. I just changed the addresses on the envelopes."

Market More Farm Products in 1923

Co-Operative Associations Making Good Use of Credit Facilities.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Co-operative associations will market considerably more farm products in 1923 than they did last year, it is indicated in reports to the Department of Agriculture. While it is impossible to estimate how much business they will do, the fact that new associations are being formed and old ones enlarged is ground for the belief that the amount of the year's crops to be marketed co-operatively will exceed all former figures. A big factor in promoting co-operative marketing is the improvement made in credit facilities recently.
First steps toward better credit accommodation for co-operatives were taken in 1921, when congress enlarged the powers of the War Finance corporation. Up to date that organization has authorized advances to co-operatives amounting to more than $190,000,000. Although only $38,500,000 of the money has been actually used, the fact that it was available has been a powerful beneficial influence, say officials of the department.

Opening Lines of Credit.
Many co-operative associations are opening up lines of credit at the new intermediate credit banks, because the War Finance corporation will cease making advances on February 29 next. It is believed the new institutions will function much as the War Finance corporation has done in giving confidence and loosening up additional outside credit. They have already authorized advances of about $5,000,000 to farmers' co-operative associations handling cotton, wheat, wool, tobacco and canned fruits.

It is pointed out that the real service of the intermediate credit banks, like that of the War Finance corporation, cannot be measured merely by the volume of their discounts or advances. Their chief value is seen in the fact that the credit made available by them often induces or encourages private financial institutions to offer credit accommodation, when otherwise they might stand aloof.

The intermediate credit banks seem likely nevertheless to operate soon on a bigger scale than was expected. Each of the twelve institutions was provided with a capital of $1,000,000 from the treasury immediately it was organized. Five of them have since called for additional capital to a total amount of $5,000,000, so that the present paid-in capital of the twelve banks is $17,000,000. Moreover, an issue of debentures to the amount of $10,000,000 has been sold in anticipation of a large demand for discounts and advances in the coming marketing season. Discounts of agricultural paper for banks have been made to the amount of $1,000,000 by the intermediate credit institutions.

Limiting Loans.
For the present, the federal farm loan board, which supervises the banks, is limiting loans and discounts to terms of nine months. Borrowers, however, have the practical assurance that the terms will be renewed when necessary. Reliance on renewals from the intermediate credit banks, according to officials of the Department of Agriculture, has a stronger justification than is the case where loans of commercial banks are concerned, because the latter are always under the obligation of protecting their deposit liabilities.

Although financing of co-operative associations probably will call for considerably more money this year than ever before, managers of such associations are confident all necessary accommodation will be available. They report that bankers all over the country are readily taking co-operative paper. One co-operative organization leader in Arizona says many associations in that state have not needed to borrow from the War Finance corporation or the intermediate credit banks, because ample funds have been available to them from private bankers on very favorable terms.

An area equivalent to 200 counties was covered during the last fiscal year in the farm-to-farm survey for barberry bushes. This is one step in the fight against wheat rust which is being carried on by the United States Department of Agriculture in co-operation with state agricultural colleges, state departments of agriculture, and the conference for the prevention of grain rust. The work consisted of a survey and resurvey for sprouting bushes and seedlings. It was carried on in Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota, Wisconsin, and Wyoming. In all, 740,855 bushes were removed from 3,799 properties in the preliminary survey while 66,670 sprouting bushes and 2,138 seedlings were destroyed in the follow-up campaign.

Since the beginning of the barberry eradication work in 1918 practically all cities and villages of the thirteen states within the quarantine area have been surveyed. In the original farm-to-farm survey an area equivalent to 484 counties has been covered, including 59 counties surveyed on funds furnished by states. In the five years a total of 5,234,946 bushes and seedlings have been destroyed on 53,610 properties.

FARMS FOR SALE.
58 acre tract with 7 room frame dwelling, good barn and other out-buildings, well tiled and fenced, good orchard, located just off Lancaster pike close to centralized school. Party purchasing this place has the privilege of sowing wheat this fall with possession given March 1, 1924 and the price is right.

Walling farm consisting of 104 acre tract with 8 room frame dwelling, 3 good barns, 2 room pump station, scales, silo, cement corn crib, large cattle barn and windpump, well drained and fenced, with 12 acres of growing alfalfa, located on paved pike just out of the corporation with lowest tax rate in the county. Within 100 yards of traction station, good market and school. If sold in a few days possession can be given at once. We regard this a fine location for a home.

THE HOT BLAST AIR TIGHT FLORENCE

NO SMOKE! NO SOOT! NO DIRT! NO CLINKERS! EVERYTHING IS CONSUMED.

At the end of the season's use with soft coal, there will be no soot in the pipe or flue

The Zenith of Stove Perfection

The only jointless leg bottom and base with full radiation and large ash pan that is on the market or has ever been made in the history of the stove industry.

The jointless leg bottom and base makes the stove air-tight below the grate, which is the only true fire keeping principle.

It will be as good a fire keeper twenty years hence as it is today.

The Hot Blast Air-Tight Florence will heat twice the space that can be heated by any other stove on earth at one-half the cost.

The only perfect floor heater that is or has ever been made.

All features are patented and no stove manufacturer, dealer or user can copy or use same until the expiration of the patent without incurring liability for an action for damages.

THE HOT BLAST AIR-TIGHT FLORENCE burns soft coal or slack and all the smoke and gases. No filling up of the stove, pipe or flue with soot. No dirt inside or outside the house. It will burn hard coal and all the gases which escape from the hard coal base burner. It will burn wood and sawdust, wet or dry. It will produce one-half less ashes than any other stove on earth with any kind of fuel and leave no clinkers or half consumed fuel.

Tax Pamphlets Out.

Columbus, Oct. 11.—Secretary of State Brown is sending out the publicity pamphlets on the Taft and Albaugh taxation measures, up for referendum at the November election, and the initiated old age pension bill, submitted to the voters on the same ballot. The pamphlets, as provided by law, carry the texts of the three measures, together with arguments for and against each, as prepared by proponents and opponents of each.

Explosion on Submarine.

Los Angeles, Oct. 11.—An explosion aboard one of the S type submarines of the Pacific fleet in Los Angeles harbor is reported to have cost the lives of two men, members of the crew. In addition, it is said, several members of the crew were injured. The explosion is said to have been due to a defective battery.

Mrs. Harding's Plans.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Mrs. Florence Kling Harding will spend the coming winter in Washington, but her future home has not been decided, her friends have been informed. She is staying now in Marion.

One of Nature's Acrobats.

The weasel has been called the acrobat of nature, and performs every kind of acrobatic feat. The bloodthirsty little villain is no coward. It will attack human beings. The weasel can climb as easily as run and is at home on any surface.

"AUNT JEMIMA" VICTIM OF AUTO

Colored Mammy of Pancake Fame Crushed to Death in Chicago; Born in Kentucky.

Chicago.—Pancake season is here, but in some Chicago households the sizzling of the griddle will bring memories tinged with sadness. "Aunt Jemima" is dead. The aged negro woman whose ability to make "flapjacks" was capitalized by millers, whose bandanna-wreathed smile forms a mental picture for thousands of lovers of "a plate of wheats" and whose skill with the pancake turner furnished amusement for and drew the envy of those who have attended expositions and fairs ever since the Chicago World's fair of 1893, fell a victim to an automobile in Chicago recently.

Her death marks the passing of an interesting character who will be mourned not only by the negro race but by numerous wealthy Chicago families as well. For Mrs. Nancy Green will live longest in memory as "Aunt Jemima."

Was Born in Kentucky.

"Aunt Jemima" was born in Montgomery county, Ky., in 1834 and came to Chicago as a nurse for the Walker family. She nursed and made pancakes for the late Circuit Judge Charles M. Walker, chief justice of the Municipal court, and his brother, Dr. Samuel Walker, now a leading North side physician, when they were boys. They spread her fame among their boy chums, and before long "Aunt Jemima's pancakes" became a common phrase in Chicago when good things to eat were discussed.

A milling concern heard of her, searched her out, obtained her recipe and induced her to make pancakes at the World's fair. After that she went from one exposition to another demonstrating her skill. There was one, however, that she refused to attend—the Paris exposition. All inducements that could be made were put forward, but "Aunt Jemima" refused to budge.

Refused to Cross Ocean.

"No, suh," she said. "They ain't no man gonna git me on th' watab. I was bo'n in this country an' I'm gonna die heah, not somewheah 'twixt heah an' somewheah's else."

She was one of the first colored missionary workers and one of the organizers of the Olivet Baptist church, now the largest colored church in the world, with a membership of over 9,000.

Urges Chinese Manners for American Children

Bridgewater, N. Y.—"Chinese manners" as an antidote to the all-too-prevalent habit of young women powdering their noses in public, was suggested as a course to given in public schools by Dr. Henry Neuman of the Ethical Culture school of New York, one of the principal speakers, at the recent sixth annual conference of state normal schools.

Popular jazz songs he flatly denounced and declared that the singing of "Yes, We Have No Bananas" is a sign of mental poverty.

"I think it would be a good idea to teach our children a little about Chinese manners in the public schools, as a corrective against what I term 'subway manners.' We might get the young women to stop powdering their noses in public."

Doctor Neumann decried the fact that he hears young people the country over playing "Yes, We Have No Bananas" and "Barney Google" ten times in succession. "We must give them something better, so they can understand how pathetic and stupid such music is."

Boys Discover Skulls While Playing Pirates

New York.—Jacob Goldberg, aged eleven, and five young companions, fierce in their burned cork eyebrows, wooden swords and bandanna-swathed heads, went seeking treasure they had buried on a previous sailing of the South seas.

An old map pointed to a sand heap in Brooklyn, a short distance from Jacob's home. They began to dig, and they found four bleached skulls.

Policeman McDonough took the skulls to the Miller avenue station, accompanied by the "pirates."

Buzzard at Train

to Greet Visitors

Saranap, Calif.—Incensed because of the actions of an unidentified buzzard, which insists on meeting all trains, the citizens of Saranap, Calif., have organized to do away with the bird. It's a bad "ad" for the town, they say.

The bird appears about train time and perches on a post near the depot. Saranap boosters declare the buzzard has been trained to "do his stuff" by a rival town, jealous of Saranap's growth during the last year.

SIXTY-THREE YEARS AGO

The meeting of the Republicans of Pickaway county at Darbyville last Saturday was an immense gathering. A correspondent writes us that there were from four to five thousand persons present. The procession was a magnificent affair and was the largest seen in Pickaway county since 1840. Darbyville news item published in State Journal October 9, 1860.
